MY PROFILE

Since i'm in France, i created a website on WordPress in order to share the tourist attractions in France to Malaysian. However, there are many limitations to improving the website without coding it myself. Hence, i decided to join Le Wagon and learn to code. Currently, i graduated from Le Wagon as a full-stack developer and i created another website together with my classmates by coding it ourselves. I fall in love with coding and hopefully i can find a web developer position to continue building my skills and take myself to the next level.
